

RAENA HOSKINS – FIRE SCIENCE PROGRAM COORDINATOR

Visit to Deerfield Township Fire Rescue.

From: CEAS-FAC List [<mailto:CEAS-FAC@listserv.uc.edu>] On Behalf Of CEAS Dean's Office (ceasdean)

Sent: Thursday, March 23, 2017 12:50 PM

To: CEAS-FAC@LISTSERV.UC.EDU

Subject: [CEAS-FAC] Employee of the Semester - Raena Hoskins

Engineering and Applied Science Faculty and Staff,

The Employee of the Semester for Fall 2016 was announced at last fall's staff meeting, but I want to make sure everyone is aware that Raena Hoskins was honored with this award. She was selected by the McCormick Staff Award Committee, based on nominations from across the college.

Raena's service and commitment to the college have always been, and continue to be, nothing short of outstanding. Since joining the college in 2005, she has continually demonstrated her devotion and passion to the university. Described in Raena's nomination package as being the knowledgeable contact person for a wide variety of tasks, events and activities, she serves all with a generous heart and her trademark broad smile. Her impeccable character and dedication in assisting faculty, students and staff make her one of the most appreciated colleagues in our mission.

Please join me in congratulating Raena Hoskins on being named the Employee of the Semester.

Teik C. Lim, PhD, PE

Dean, College of Engineering and Applied Science

Herman Schneider Professor of Mechanical Engineering