More firefighters and police officers commit suicide than die in the line of duty every year.... When Assistant Chief Chip Terry retired in 2012 after 26 years with the Covington Fire Department, he addressed City leaders in a speech that recapped his career and detailed advances in the department’s efforts to protect the citizens of Covington.... In September 2017, family and friends say, Terry’s struggle with post-traumatic stress overwhelmed him to the point that he took his life.
